Editors' Picks: 14 Things to See in New York This Week

Sarah Cascone, April 9, 2018

From building a rope bondage art installation at the Museum of Sex to an 11-gallery sculpture exhibition at 56 Bogart, here's what we're looking forward to this week.

Thursday, April 12–Sunday, May 20

"Beryl Korot: A Coded Language" at bitforms gallery

The path-breaking artist Beryl Korot creates work that would seem to be contradictory—she is a seminal figure in establishing video-art practices, but also employs traditional ink-painting and weaving to create tactile works. In art pieces like "Babel," she explores the ways that the Bible tale of the Tower of Babel continues to resonate with contemporary interactions and cultural changes.

Location: bitforms, 131 Allen Street

Price: Free

Time: Opening reception, 6 p.m.–8 p.m.; Tuesday–Saturday, 10 a.m.–6 p.m.
